NEW YORK - Wally Joyner set an arbitration record when arbitrator Gil Vernon awarded the California Angels first baseman a salary of $2.1 million for the 1991 season. It was the first $2 million salary ever awarded in arbitration and broke the previous record of $1,975,000, which Don Mattingly of the New York Yankees set in 1987. Andre Dawson, Lonnie Smith and Benito Santiago all went to hearings requesting $2 million salaries, but they lost their cases. While Joyner won, Philadelphia shortstop Dickie Thon and Cleveland second baseman Jerry Browne lost. That left the arbitration scoreboard tied 3-3 with 49 cases remaining. Hearings are scheduled through Feb. 21. ► WARD HONORED: Ron Ward of Concord and Melissa Hammond of West Liberty are the men's and women's basketball players of the week in the West Virginia Conference. Ward, a 6-foot-6 junior center, averaged 29.7 points and 14.3 rebounds as Concord went 1-2 last week, including a double overtime win over Salem-Teikyo and an overtime loss to Alderson-Broaddus. He also had nine blocked shots and 10 dunks. Hammond, a 5-5 sophomore guard, averaged 32.2 points as West Liberty went 1-2. She was 13-of-27 from 3-point range in the three games. COACH QUITS: At New Wilmington, Pa., Joe Fusco, who coached Westminster College to NAIA Division II football titles in 1976, 1977, 1988 and 1989, has resigned. The college immediately promoted defensive coordinator Gene Nicholson to succeed Fusco, who had a 154-34-3 record in 19

DONLAN RESIGNS: At New York, Jack Donlan, executive director of the NFL Management Council for the past 10 years, has submitted his resignation, apparently unhappy about an owners' move to curb his organization's power. NFL spokesman Joe Browne confirmed that commissioner Paul Tagliabue already has begun looking for a replacement for the man who guided the NFL's negotiating team through player strikes in 1982 and '87.

HEARNS TO FIGHT: At Inglewood, Calif., Thomas Hearns will fight for the first time in over nine months Monday night when he meets unheralded Kemper Morton in a 10-round light heavyweight bout at the Forum ► VAULT MARK: At Moscow,

Sergei Bubka of the Soviet Union broke his own world indoor pole vault record on Sunday, clearing 19 feet, 111/2 inches at the Soviet winter track championships in Volgograd. > WOMEN'S MARK: At Stuttgart, Uta Pippig set a world in-door record for women's 5,000 meters on Sunday in a time of 15

HESS WINS: At Daytona Beach, a crash on a restart three laps from the end helped Ben Hess pick up a victory Sunday in the Daytona ARCA 200 late model stock car race. Defending race winner Jimmy Horton was leading, holding off Hess by a matter of feet, after a yellow flag came out. A car had spun on the backstretch on lap 74 of the 80-lap race at Daytona International Speedway. But Horton was running out of gas and, on the restart on lap 78, he sud-denly slowed at the head of the pack, causing a chain reaction behind him. Two cars collided and several other spun on the front stretch, bringing the yellow flag back out and forcing the race to end on the seventh caution of the day. Bowsher wound up second, followed by rookie Kerry Teague. Horton, his engine sputtering, held on to finish fourth, and Joe Ni-emiroski was fifth on the 2.5-mile, high-banked oval. Despite all the caution flags, there were no serious accidents or injuries. Longtime racer Red Farmer was taken to nearby Halifax Medical Center for precautionary X-rays after bruis-ing his ribs and left ankle, and Jerry Cook was treated at the infield care center for a fractured right forefinger. Hess, who led three times for a total of 36 laps, averaged 128.480 mph

► BONILLA PACT: At Pitts-burgh, the Pirates offered Bobby Bonilla a four-year contract worth $15.5 million, a deal that would make him the highest-paid player in team history. Leonard concedes his boxing career is over after loss to Norris

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK - It's time for Sugar Ray Leonard to hit something that doesn't hit back.

That's exactly what he's going to do. "I want to do what I planned to do a long time ago — take golf lessons," Leonard said early Sunday following his 12-round battering by Terry Nor-

"It's time to get away physically from boxing," added Leonard, who will continue to be involved with the management of boxers.

Shortly after the end of his Madison Square Garden debut before 7,495 fans Saturday night, Leonard grabbed the ring microphone and said, "This is my last fight. Thank you for coming out. God bless you all. Leonard, who will be 35 on May 17, had said he never again would announce his retirement.

It was not so much an announcement, however, as it was a confirmation. The flashing fists of the 23-year-old Norris and the three official scorecards already had announced that Leonard was finished. "Trust me, this is it," Leonard said when reminded that he twice has come out of announced retirements. "It was a sad victory because of the way I ended Ray's career," said Norris, who retained the World Boxing Council super welterweight (154-pound) title.

Leonard was knocked down in the second and seventh rounds. His lips were bleeding. His face "I've been a risk taker and I'm happy nothing happened to me," he said. The Leonard pride, however, showed through the bumps and the blood.

"I never thought of quitting during the fight," he said. One "no mas" fight was all there was going to be in Leonard's career. "No mas" is what Roberto Duran said when he quit in the eighth round of his 1980 rematch with Leonard. When the final bell mercifully tolled for the exhausted Leonard, he was behind by an incredible 16 points on each of two official cards.

Barbara Perez scored every round for Norris giving hims two-point margins in four rounds. Sid Rubenstein scored it 11 rounds for Norris, giving him two-point margins in three rounds and a three-point advantage in another.

Billy Costello, a former junior welterweight champion, who favored Norris by six points, thought Leonard won four rounds.

"Ray took a pretty bad beating," Norris said. "He showed me things that I showed guys in the past," Leonard said.

Of course, it was things Leonard failed to show that helped make the match so one-sided. His feet sometimes seemed anchored to the canvas. His arms grew heavy from frustration and despera-
